Dear Mr Mintsis

HONORARY PROFESSOR of EDUCATION

It is my great honour to inform you that you are to be offered an HONORARY PROFESSORSHIP of EDUCATION by the Appointments Board of the International Biographical Centre, of Cambridge, England.

Only a very select few are to be honoured in this way and each recipient has been handpicked by the Appointments Board of which I have the pleasure to be Chairman. The selection process is clear: a recipient must show the very highest level of achievement within the field of education and must be seen as an authority within this field of expertise.

HONORARY PROFESSORSHIPS are awarded by leading institutions and are seen as one of the ultimate distinctions that achieves utmost respect and admiration throughout the world. You may be aware that the IBC was founded by my predecessor, Dr. Ernest Kay, in 1967 and as the Centre approaches its fiftieth anniversary I feel Mr Mintsis that the time is right to offer you this significant accolade. Since its inception in 1967 the IBC has housed the biographical details of more than two million individuals from across the globe who have contributed significantly to the leading professions including, of course, education.

Our record of international biographical research is now recognised as greatly contributing to learning and understanding amongst peoples and nations and so, at this milestone in our history, I consider that the IBC is well qualified to offer you the distinction of being an HONORARY PROFESSOR of EDUCATION.

To commemorate your appointment the symbols of office will be as follows:

Medal of Office

Shown opposite is the Honorary Professor Medal of Office. It is bronze finished with resplendent decoration blue enamel. Each medal is engraved on the reverse with your name, year of appointment and field of expertise in business. Each Medal of Office comes with its own presentation case as well as a luxurious ribbon should you wish to wear it at formal and ceremonial events.

Plaque of Office

Pictured below is the uniquely crafted and highly illuminated Honorary Professor Plaque of Office. It measures 12 x 9 inches and features a silver grained metal plate mounted onto a light oak wooden base ready for wall hanging. Each Plaque of Office highlights the recipient's name and citation and the seal of the IBC as well as the Authorised Officer and Director General's signature.

I would very much like to enrol you myself at the Headquarters of the IBC near Cambridge in England. However, I see that this is sometimes impractical as we all have exceptionally busy schedules. Therefore, I am most willing to notify your college or professional colleagues of your elevation to this position if you would like me to do so and can enclose a photograph of me holding your particular symbols of office.

Should you accept this honour you will be entitled to the letters H.ProfEdu after your name for your lifetime.

I do look forward to hearing from you.

Sincerely,

Nicholas S. Law
Director General
